THE FIRST STORY OF OUR IMMENSE

BUILDING IS UP.

It will now be pushed forward with dispatch. tikely to be in need of Spring and Summer DRY GOODS, to call and examine the

we are now offering. On account of the backwardness of the season, we are left with too many goods on hand, We have determined to sell them, and sell them we will, as we are bound to raise lots of money to pay for building and to lay in stock for our grand opening, second to none in the country.

We have just reduced all our COLORED DOLLAR SILKS to 75 cents.

25 Pieces most beautiful Patterns of ALL SILK BROCADES, from $1.50 to 95 cents. This is a rare Bargain and cannot be repeated. All our Dress Goods way down to half price.

6,000 Pieces WHITE GOODS of every description. These are of our own importation, having ordered them as far back as last November. We miscalculated the quantity and ordered more than our retail trade demands. Therefore, be it known that price shall be no object, and they must go.

We sell a fine VICTORIA LAWN at 8 cents, which is retailed everywhere at 121/2 cents.

ington knows the magnitude of our stock, which we can safely state is three times as large as the stock of any other merchant in this city. Therefore, prepare for Bargains! As by the time we move into our NEW HOUSE, we expect to reduce the stock to the smallest in The Goods are all fresh, having sent all our old trash to New York auction, to be sold to the highest Call early in the morning to avoid the immense

THE STAR ROUTE TRIAL.

Testimony for the Prosecution Contin-After THE STAR'S report of the proceedings in was recalled, and identified Mr. Brady's signature to papers directing that the addresses of certain contractors be changed from Sandusky, Ohio, to ock boxes 714 and 706, Washington, D. C. Inspector Woodward was then further examined, and testified that the various documents produced by him had been carefully kept while in PROCEEDINGS TO-DAY. When the court was convened this morning, J. F. H. Blowis, bookkeeper of the financial division of the Post Office department, was examined as to various accounts with contractors.

M. M. Nicholson, topographer of the Post Office department, identified a number of diagrams of route 38,135, from St. Charles to Greenhorn, as having been prepared in his office. ALL ABOUT A DIAGRAM. Mr. Wilson, in cross-examining the witness, exhibited a diagram of route 34,149, prepared in the witness' office, but the latter could not say whether it was correct or not; it was prepared by one of his draughtsmen, by direction of Mr. Woodward. Mr. Wilson, having read the advertisement for service on the route, the witness said the diagram did not represent the route correctly according to the advertisement. The diagram was prepared partly on information given by Mr. French, the sub-contractor. Mr. Bliss said the map or diagram was put in testimony simply to show the route as of Peck, alleged to be false, was predicated. A MISSTATEMENT OF DISTANCE. Mr. Bliss submitted in evidence a letter from Wm. Ingersoll, the postmaster at Pueblo, dated December 15, 1877, to the Second Assistant Postmaster General, notifying him that the advertisement on which the contract on route 88135 was let was wrong, as it misstated the distance. Mr. Totten having objected to the admission to the letter, Judge Wylie ruled that it could be ad-mitted, as it was part of the papers on record in the Post Office department regarding this case.

Mr. Totten asked if any private citizen wrote a letter to the department, charging adultery or something or that sort, whether it would be ad-

"No, sir," said Judge Wylie, "adultery don't re-late to the business of the Post Office depart-"I am glad to hear that, your honor," said Mr.

INCREASE AND EXPEDITION. Mr. Bliss then submitted a letter from James Fairhurst, postmaster at St. Charles, dated August 30, 1878, stating that there was no railroad station there, and recommending that the service bechanged so as to embrace and begin at Pueblo, increasing the distance 12 miles; also, a letter from Postmaster Ingersoll to Post Office Inspector Adams and a report of Mr. Adams, stating that a mistake had been made in the advertisement, of which the contractor, by sharp practice, was taking advantage. He then submitted various letters and petitions asking that service on the route be increased from two to six trips a week, and the running time reduced to 8 hours: also the order increasing the reduced to 8 hours; also the order increasing the service to six trips a week and expediting the schedule to seven hours, allowing the contractor $438.40 for the increase and $2,680.40 for the expedi-

Mr. Bliss, passing the petitions to the jury for inspection, called attention to the words "quicker time," "faster schedule," &c., which it is claimed were inserted by another hand after the petitions were inserted by another hand after the petitions were prepared and signed. Other petitions relating to the route, asking for an increase of the number of trips, were submitted and some in which it was claimed interlineations asking expedition had been made; also a letter from John R. Miner, transmitting petitions to the department and proposals of Miner to carry the mails on the expedited achedule.

Mr. Merrick then offered the affidavit of John R. Miner, that the expedition and increase on the route would require an increase of stock or outlay from one man and one animal to two men and four anione man and one animal to two men and four animals. A subcontract letting the route to S. W. Dorsey, and a subsequent order to increase the distance three miles and allowing $369.90 per annum for the same were then submitted. Other papers relating to this increase so as to embrace Agate, and an order afterwards made cutting Agate, and an order afterwards made cutting Agate off were presented.

A paper having been presented of an order cutting off expedition, made since Mr. Brady left office, it was objected to and ruled out. During the course of the discussion Mr. Totten observed: "We would like to compare the old administration with the reformed administration at the proper time, and believe the comparison would be unfavorable to the reformed administration."

At half-past 12 the usual recess was taken.

House of Representatives. THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

The morning hour having been dispensed with, the House, at 12:20, went into committee of the whole (Mr. Burrows in the chair) on the river and harbor appropriation bill. Mr. Page, chairman of the committee on commerce, made a general explanation of the bill, and presented the reason which had induced the committee to recommend an appropriation so far in excess of the appropriations of former years. This was the first river and harbor bill that had contained any appropriation commensurate with the great work of improvement contemplated by the Mississippi river commission. He compared the pending bill with the law of the current year, to show that, while the latter appropriated $11,000,000 upon an estimate of $25,000,000, the former appropriated only $17,000,000 on an estimate of $37,000,000. There was appropriated by the pending bill for improvement of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers $3,864,000 in excess of the amount appropriated last year; for Baltimore harbor, $300,000; for Providence river and Narragansett bay, $65,000; for Idence river and Narragansett bay, $65,000; for Charleston (S.C.) harbor, $125,000; for Savannah harbor, $135,000; for Galveston harbor, $50,000; for Chicago harbor, $50,000; for Oakland harbor, $140,000, and for Delaware Creek water, $125,000—all these amounts being in excess of the amounts allowed by the law of last year.

Mr. Horr, a member of the committee on commerce, denied that there was one particle of truth in the instruction or impression that there was in the insinuation or impression that there was a iob concealed somewhere in the pending bill, or that it was framed on the "you tickle me and I tickle you" principle. The District in Congress.

IMPORTANT MERTING OF THE SENATE DISTRICT COM-The Senate District committee at their regular meeting to-day ordered the free bridge bill to be favorably reported with several amendments, the star route trial closed yesterday, Mr. Sweeny | which only make the provisions more specific and do not in any manner change the purport of the bill. It provides that if within — days from the passage of the act a satisfactory title cannot be obtained by purchase to the piers of the Alexandria canal company and the bridge thereon, as provided for in the act of 1881, to authorize the construction of a free bridge, etc., the Secretary of War shall make application to the District Supreme Court for the condemnation of the stone piers and all the structures thereon of the stone piers and all the structures thereon of the canal company, and the court is authorized to appoint five commissioners to ascertain the cash value thereof, after giving ten days' notice to the canal company, and to the Alexandria canal railroad and bridge company. The sum of $100,000 is appropriated for the purposes of the act, and all delays are provided against, so that title shall promptly vest in the government, regardless of all questions as to the ownership of the piers and superstructure.

The committee also agreed to report in favor of concurring in the House amendments to the bill for the relief of Christian Ruppert and others, (to refund them taxes erroneously collected;) also, ordered to be favorably reported the bill to per-mit the Washington City and Point Lookout railponed, it being agreed that in lieu of the bill an amendment (providing for precisely the same thing) should be offered to the deficiency bill. was put in testimony simply to show the route as it was served by the sub-contractor. Mr. Henkle argued that the government should submit a diagram of the route as required by the advertisement, as it was of that route that the advertisement, as it was of that route that the adllavit of the settlement of outside the substitute of the settlement of the substitute of the settlement of the substitute of the subs ered, and a substitute providing that the rate of interest to be allowed on such claims shall be six per cent was adopted and ordered to be reported. It was decided by the committee that this rate of interest was in accordance with decisions of the courts. The House amendments to the bill for the relief of Ruppert and others was concurred in by the Senate. Capitol Notes. The House passed the legislative appropriation bill yesterday afternoon, and took up the river and harbor bill. The President sent a communication to the Senate yesterday announcing that Wm. A. Wheeler, of N. Y., and John P. Phelps, of Mo., having declined to serve on the tariff commission, those names were withdrawn from the consideration of

THE QUESTION OF ADJOURNMENT. The committee of ways and means held a meeting to-day to consider a resolution to be submitted gress. The dates canvassed were June 26th, July 3d and July 10th. By a vote of five to four the committee decided to postpone the further consideration of the subject until Tuesday next, when it is thought the river and harbor bill, which is being vigorously opposed, will be out of the way.

The deceased was governor of Ohio when the civil war broke out, and was Postmaster General in President Lincoln's cabinet at the time the lat-ter was assassinated. He was well known in this District, having been appointed by President Grant one of the first Commissioners of the District of Columbia when the present form of government was adopted. Together with Mr. Blow, of Mo., and Mr. Ketcham, of N.Y., the deceased entered on the duties of the office July 3d, 1874, continuing as such until he resigned, 1st July, 1878. During his entire term he acted as president of the board, was always at his post, and made a most excellent executive officer. He was succeeded by Capt. S. L. Phelps when the permanent form of government for the District went into effect. The deceased was the candidate for the nomination for Vice President against the late Senato Wilson in 1872, and for Senator when Gen. Garfield was chosen in 1880. He was eminent as a lawyer, politician and a business man, succeeding in all these capacities. He was one of the prime movers in the combination that put forward R. B. Hayes for President. As District Commissioner he was generally respected as a faithful and conscientious officer by his subordinates in office and all who came in contact with him.
